GINNY BROUGHT RAIN AND ACCIDENTS

The hurricane 'Ginny' passing offshore from New England Monday brought a relief to the parched lands of Wilmington, and a series of automobile accidents and then capped the story by causing the blowout of an electric light transformer in Wilmington Square which plunged large areas into total darkness for several hours.

Ginny brought a total of 2.02 inches of rain to Wilmington, more than it did to Boston and other communities which received about 1 1/4 inches. It was the first rain for this town since Oct 3rd.

There were three auto accidents during the storm, sending four persons to St Johns Hospital in Lowell.

There were four accidents during the storm, which sent four men to the St Johns Hospital in Lowell. The worst accident, at 11 pm on West Street, near the home of Norman Richardson.

Three Reading boys, in a car struck a parked car, at about 10:50 pm and the parked car was forced into another. All three had to be towed away.

The first accident was at 1:40 pm at the corner of Middlesex Avenue and High Street. It involved a car driven by D D Parsons of 398 Chestnut Street, and a 1960 Valiant driven by Ira Pelletier of Arlington. Passengers in the car driven by Mr Parsons were his mother and his wife. There were no reported personal injuries.

A DeMoula's Truck skidded on the approach to Route 93, in North Wilmington, and turned on its side. The police, when they arrived about 4:45 pm found the driver standing on the left side of the inside of the cab, climbing out thru the right side door. He was taken to St Johns. The accident tied up the approach to the Interstate Highway for about half an hour.

Property damage only resulted from an accident on Shawsheen Avenue, at about 8:40 pm. The accident was near the Billerica line, when John S Martin of Pmehurst struck a road-side cement pole.

The last of the woes thrust on the town by Ginny happened in the electric transformer box near Wilmington Square, just after midnight on Tuesday.

Rain forcing its way into the transformer caused an electrical short circuit, and large portions of the town was plunged into darkness.

Lights were out along Shawsheen Avenue, and up Main Street to Silver Lake for a total of three hours.

NO INJURIES IN THE FIRST COLLISION; The car driven by D D Parsons, in the foreground, after being separated from the other car in the accident which took place near Middlesex Ave and High Street.

WILMINGTON IS HOST TO NORTH ANDOVER SATURDAY

The Scarlet Knights of North Andover will play Wilmington, on the Wilmington High School field, Saturday. Game time is 1:30 pm.

The Scarlet Knights, last week, had the dubious honor of losing to Burlington, 26-8. Burlington had been holding the all-state record for consecutive losses - 26 games.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE FAVORS NEW INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL

The Wilmington School Committee, Monday night, wrote a letter to the Permanent Building Committee, saying that it felt that the next school to be built in Wilmington should be an Intermediate School in the west part of the town, (Shawsheen Avenue area).

The PBC was also told that plans should be made for an elementary school in the same general area. The Committee also recommended that the PBC arrange to purchase land for more than the two school sites, if possible, in order to make allowance for sites for future schools.

The schools discussed in the letters are to be constructed after the completion of the Woburn Street School, now under construction.

GASOLINE LICENSE HEARING

The Board of Selectmen, Monday night, granted a license for the increased storage of gasoline and motor oils for the property at the corner of West Street and Lowell Street.

About two dozen interested persons were present at the hearing. The property is owned by Olga Ella, and the ady was represented by her son, John C Ella.

The Selectmen kept a firm hand on the hearing, confining remarks to the subject - that of increased storage.

Mr Ella agreed that, in the event the state wanted more land for Rte 129 he would give the land. This brought a slight protest from some of the neighbors, who felt that Mr Ella was being forced into that agreement, but he dismissed any protest, saying that his father before him had given land to the state.

Mr Ella plans to tear down the store operated for many years by his father, and build a brick Service Station, located well back from the street.

POSTOFFICE CONSTRUCTION AWARDED TO R. I. FIRM

Congressman F Bradford Morse has announced that the contract for the construction of a new postoffice near Wilmington Square has been awarded by the Postoffice Department to the Ferris Corporation, 60 Taylor Drive, East Providence RI.

The new post office is to be constructed of concrete block and brick, and is expected to be ready in August of next year.

Morse said that the new Wilmington facility is to have an interior space of 6148 square feet, with an area of 9920 square feet for parking and movement of postal vehicles.

The new building is to be a one story structure, of individual design. He emphasized that the federal government's capital investment will be limited substantially to postal equipment, and that the building will be under private ownership, with the owner paying real estate taxes to the town. It will be leased to the Postoffice Department for ten years, with renewal options running up to 30 years.

A total of seven bids were received by the Post Office Department's Real Estate Chief.

SCIENCE PROJECTS OR SUPERVISION?

The School Committee of Wilmington is pondering a question which arose in its Monday night meeting.

Shall it spend in 1964, a sum of about $6000 to allow the Heads of Departments in the high school more time for their supervisory activities, - or should it spend about the same amount of money for new science teaching equipment - with about half of the money so spent to be refunded at a later date by the Federal government under the National Defense Act?

An informal poll, taken during the meeting by Chairman Arthur V Lynch, found the committee split, three to three. The committee would like to do both, and can afford only one.

Last year, in an effort to save tax money, the School Committee did not make any purchase of materials under the National Defense Act. Previously it has purchased (for instance) the Language Lab now being used in the High School. There was a 50% re-imbursement from the Federal government on that purchase.

The head of the High School Science Department, Miss Fareello, wants to have a new microscope, a Pellicroscope - the latest in such devices. It costs $2,322. Also wanted are some Encyclopedia Britannica science films and some reference books, making a total cost of $3600.

In the elementary level, the Supervising Principals have recommended a couple of projects also repayable under the NDA, to purchase supplementary materials for Science and Math, at a cost of about $2000.

Committeeman Glen Connolly, in Monday's meeting, was in favor of more time for the Department Heads, as being essential for the proper guidance of the teachers.

Siding with Connolly was John Hartnett.

George Robertie was in favor of purchasing the new materials, repayable in half by the NDA, and with Robertie was Eddie Page.

The decision will have to be made before the budget is completed, early in December.

TAXES GOING UP

In his latest letter to the people of Wilmington Town Manager Jerry Bouchard points out (among other things) that the increase in Personal and Real property, in Wilmington, for 1963 was $3.6 million over the 1962 figure.

The figure is interesting, and it bears out a prediction made by Stanley Webber, former principal assessor, about a year ago.

Mr Webber told his listeners that if the Personal and Real property assessments in Wilmington did not increase by about $5 million in a year the result would be an increase in the tax rate.

With a $3.6 million increase the figure that Mr Webber cited was not met. As everyone knows, the tax rate went up $3.

All of which leads up to the possibilities in 1964.

Has there been an increase of $5,000,000 in Personal and Real property in Wilmington this year? Will there be?

The answer is No. There has been very little important building going on this year.

It looks as though 1964 is going to be a year of still higher taxes.

SKATING RINKS

The people of Wilmington woke up yesterday morning to discover snow in the air - a harbinger of the coming winter.

Winter, in Wilmington means Skating. Not only speed skating, at which the people of this town excell, but also Hockey.

The Wilmington Skating Club has an Olympic sized rink, achieved after a lot of struggle, on which the speed skaters train. The Club would like to have Hockey Skating too, but has no money for the sport.

Each week, during the hockey season, money amounting to $100 a week or more is spent by our hockey teams, in out-of-town rink hire.
This, in each season, amounts to a considerable sum.

The Skating Club would like to do something.
The Hockey Clubs would like to do something.
Neither one nor the other can seem to.

How about a study on the part of the Wilmington Recreation Commission? There may be a way out, and the Recreation Commission may be the organization to discover the answer.

LETTER

Dear Larz:

There must be several thousand fellow citizens who would like to express their deep admiration and pride for the boys on the Wilmington High School football team, and their coaches, after that tremendous display Saturday of skill, courage and good sportsmanship.

In spite of having several first-string men on the bench with injuries, and others able to play only with aggravating limps, and outweighed man to man, and under terrific pressure psychologically, they played magnificently!

It was, even at that, sheer luck that a Chelmsford player happened to be at the right spot when a pass was batted wown into his fortunate and opportune arms!

I was extremely proud of 'our guys' and they are still 'champs' of a kind. Brand, in the play by Ibsen, says on an occasion: 'Some day it will become clearly manifest that the greatest victory is in defeat.'

Every school with a great football tradition, high school, college or even the 'pros' has to taste this kind of victory sometime. We are with them all the way, and we'll be out there yelling our heads off for them next Saturday too!
Respectfully yours,
Robert E. Sanders

Amen. Ed.

VARIANCE ON CHESTNUT STREET DENIED BY APPEALS

A request for a variance in the Zoning Laws, for land at the lower end of Chestnut Street has been denied by the Wilmington Board of Appeals. The decision, dated Oct 23, was handed down Tuesday evening.

The requested variance was for land owned by William F Magee.
The land is in the Rural Zone, requiring a 200 foot frontage. Magee had plenty of land, but only 130 foot frontage. He intended to sell the land to Robert F Babine, for building purposes.

There were no objectors at the hearing, which was held on Oct.
first.

In its decision, which was unanimous, the board felt that a 70 foot variance was excessive. The proposal, the board said, 'derogates from the intent and purpose of the law'.

TOWN NOTES

The Middlesex Canal

It isn't often that the old Middlesex Canal, first in the United States gets into the news, but it did this week, in a minor sort of way.

The Jackson Brothers, the carpenters who have a slogan about hitting thumbs, and are currently developing Jackson Heights, in the western part of the town, own some land through which the old canal once ran.

They are 'Land-Courting' their property (insuring the titles, perhaps is the best way to describe that action) and as a matter of course the Massachusetts Land Court always notifies persons who may possibly have an interest in any land being 'land-courted'

The Town received such a notice and it was discussed in the Select-men's meeting Monday night.

The part of the canal which is in the Jackson Brothers property has had no water for the past 100 years or so, but the Honorable Board decided that it is better to be safe than sorry - so they instructed the Town Counsel to protest the case, before the Land Court, - this just in case there is a drainage problem.

Perfect Story Spoiled

This column, last week, rather proudly related that there were no 'sticker' violations on the part of auto drivers in Wilmington, this October.

But someone always has to spoil such a story. Four drivers are to appear in Woburn Court, charged with 'sticker violations' within the next few days.

Officers Peterson, Ballou and Cuoco spotted the miscreants. Two of them were local people, and two from out of town.

The End?

Now that the long winning streak
of Wilmington High School's football team has been broken, the people of Wilmington can at least set back and draw a deep breath.

The suspense, admittedly, has been terrible. How long would the Wilmington lightweights keep it up?

But it was a lot of fun reading the Boston newspapers, and what the sports writers had to say about it all.

For weeks Wilmington, a class
C team, has been sharing the headlines with the Class A teams as well as the college teams.

Sunday every one of the Boston papers had the Wilmington-Chelmsford game covered in detail, with pictures of the plays, etc.

The Boston Herald, for instance, gave the big play to Northeastern University and U of Mass on the first page of their sport section.
The two colleges, between them,
shared an eight column 'lead' in 60 point type (5/8 inch high).

Wilmington wasn't on the front page of the sports section, but it had the only other 60 point lead, and the lead covered six full columns!

Exhilarating for we old Wilmington fans!

PROTESTANT REFORMATION SERVICE

The Wilmington Council of Churches will again this year sponsor its annual service, 'The Festival of the Protestant Reformation'. The service this year will be held on November 3rd at 8 p.m. in the Congregational Church in Wilmington.

We are most fortunate to have for our speaker the Reverend Dr. Elfan Rees, author, preacher and ecumenical leader. Dr. Rees has an impressive background of many years work in international and ecumenical work. Born in Brecon, Wales in 1906, he is a graduate of Oxford University. He served five years in the Congregational ministry, at which time he was appointed Director of the South Wales Council of Social Service.

Further areas of service include a position in 1944 as Senior Welfare Specialist for the Balkan Mission of UNRRA. In 1947 he was appointed Director of the Refugee Division of the World Council of Churches Department of Relief and Reconstruction. In 1949 he became its special advisor on refugee affairs. The needs of over 10,000,000 refugees, crowded into West Germany, not eligible for United Nations care, were urgently presented by Dr. Rees at the 1949 World Council of Churches.

The public is invited to attend this Reformation Service.

There was never a game quite like it, before in Wilmington. Seven sports writers (two from the Lowell Sun) and eight sports photographers, not including the Wilmington movie camera, together with about 4500 paying fans saw the Chelmsford Lion claw the Wilmington Wildcat, in a 15 to 12 victory last Saturday.

Two records were broken as the two top teams in the Lowell Suburban League squared off at each other.

Chelmsford was scored upon, for the first time in eight games, and the second time in nineteen, the other event being last year's defeat (18-0) by Wilmington.

And Wilmington was defeated -- its first defeat in 24 games, the times (Wilmington none) and Wilmington recovered three, two of them by Kasabuski.

All the scoring was done in the first half. Wilmington fans as the second half opened, looked forward confidently to a victory, as the

The Chelmsford defense was the best that Wilmington had come up against in years. A much heavier line does not daunt the Wilmington lightweights, but they were unable to get at the Chelmsford quarterback, an almost unheard of event in Wilmington football games.

But the Wildcat alertness for enemy fumbles was just as strong as ever. Chelmsford fumbled four Wildcats have always done their heavy scoring the in second half when the score was against them -- but this time the Chelmsford defense was just too strong.

To Wilmington High School Junior Jim Newhouse, fullback of the Wildcats, goes the honor of being the first man to reach paydirt at the Chelmsford scoring line in a year.

With a hot afternoon sun (81 degrees in the shade) beating down on the two teams, Chelmsford was the first to score, after the Lions

PRELUDE TO A TOUCHDOWN Keith Arnold, in the second quarter, catching the forward pass, seconds before he streaked for the Chelmsford line and a TD. The attempted intercept by Chelmsford #17 failed.

Brian Popolizio had streaked 48 yards to the Wilmington 22 in the early part of the game. Bob Parisseau then passed 18 yards to Stan Norkenus for the TD four plays later, and and Holtberg for the conversion, making the score 7-0.

Wilmington's center, Charlie Ravagni, recovered the first of four Chelmsford fumbles at the Chelmsford 27, and three plays later QB Lynn Billings passed a 23 yard scoring play to Newhouse. The conversion failed.

In the second quarter Lynn Billings got in to deflect a pass intended for Chelmsford's George Dixon, only to see Chelmsford's Urban grab the ball and streak down the right side of the field to score. The play had started from the 27 yard line.

Holtberg passed to Popolizio for the second conversion, after a feint, and the extra points gained in the two conversions proved to be fatal for the Wilmington cause.

HB Pat Lippiello sparked a 66 yard drive for Wilmington when he made a 43 yard run down the left side, for Wilmington's final scoring. Billings pitched the ball 15 yards to Keith Arnold for the TD, but the conversion attempt was thwarted by Chelmsford's Vinto, who penetrated the Wilmington line.

The second half, fiercely contested, could have been anybody's game at any moment, but neither side scored. Kasabuski's two recoveries of fumbles made him star along with Capt Jon Fairfield for the defense, and Ravagni, Newhouse and Lippiello in the offense.

This famous 'Penny Sale' was originated by Rexall in 1913, and always gives Rexall customers two sale items for the price of one, plus a penny.

'As American as apple pie', Mr. Mel Woodside explained. 'Any tradition that survives for 51 years, as this Rexall 1¢ Sale has, is not only a sound merchandising idea, it also attests to the success of the principle of free enterprise here in America. In this 1¢ Sale, our customers can save nearly half on their needs, yet are assured of the same fine quality they know is guaranteed by Rexall. Think of it! Medicines, vitamins, toiletries, first aid needs, stationery... everything... and all at two for the price of one, plus a penny. So don't wait. Come in today and save the ONE CENT SALE way... at The Wilmington Center Rexall Pharmacy, 432 Main St., Wilmington. Sale ends Saturday, November ninth. So hurry... get everything you need at two for the price of one, plus a penny!!!'

RADAR TRAP ON ROUTE 93: The Woburn Street bridge, over Route 93, last Sunday, was the station for about 4 hours of State Trooper Frank Mahoney, in a Radar Trap that netted many dozens of speeding motorists, headed towards New Hampshire.

The dial in front of the trooper tells him the speed of cars as they passed beneath the bridge, and the Trooper would radio the information to waiting State Police located about half a mile north. At the moment of the picture the message was 'The black Caddy convertible in Lane 4 is doing 73!'

WILMINGTON HEALTH BOARD A PART OF STATE 'ALERT'

The Wilmington Board of Health is participating, on invitation of the State Department of Public Health, in the 'Alert' system which has been set up to warn the public of health and other dangers.

Under the system, Wilmington, which has a full time Public Health Officer, acts as a clearinghouse of information for contiguous towns and cities, Burlington, North Reading, Reading and Woburn, in the event of an emergency in Public Health.

So far the Wilmington board has participated in three 'Alerts', the canned fish warning of three weeks ago, another on a highly combustible paint, and a third, in the past few days, on a canned product from Canada.

October 15 1963

Dear Mr Neilson:

This letter is a reply to the letter signed by Mr Merchiono and Mr Ready as published in the October 3 edition of the Town Crier.

The Supreme Court decision stating that it is unlawful to voluntarily read the Bible in the public schools of Maryland and Pennsylvania is a violation of the First Amendment of the Constitution, for that amendment states that the federal government can not prohibit the free exercise of religion. The amendment explicitly states that 'Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof'

By what strange magic does the Supreme Court arrogate to itself a power specifically denied the Congress?

Also, Justice Stewart pointed out in his dissenting opinion that no school child was forced to take part in the Bible reading, therefore the freedom to believe whatever one wants was not violated.

Therefore what right does the Supreme Court, weighted with judges who visibly wish to further communist causes, have to prohibit the free exercise of a religious activity by thousands of school children because the parents of ONE child do not agree with the practice? The child was in no way obligated to take part in the Bible reading. Are Mr Melchiono and Mr Ready opposed to giving moral instruction to school children?

Actually the Constitution of the U.S. gives the federal government absolutely NO rights or duties with regard to public education. Thus any intrusion into this area by the Supreme Court is in violation of the Constitution, on the basis of the Tenth Amendment.

The Supreme Court is not infallible. It has made so many blunders in recent years that the American Bar Association, the US Senate, and 36 State Supreme Court Bouchard told the School Board that he would be making a public announcement in the near future.

The School Board members were introduced to Mr Bouchard by School Superintendent Harold Shea. It was their first meeting with the Town Manager.

Members of the School Committee asked Bouchard if it would not be possible to do the same thing as he is proposing for a Town Hall towards getting a new Public Library.
